Why we march?

The Royal Rosarians have marched in parades since their inception in 1912. Our white suits and straw hats have always been a parade highlight and brought us recognition throughout the land. We ARE the official greeters and ambassadors for the City of Portland and, as such, bring recognition to Portland as the Rose Capital of the World and spread our message "For You a Rose in Portland Grows."

General Parade Guidelines:

REGISTER: It is very important to register for ALL parades on our website: royalrosarians.com.

It lets Council & Parade Chairs know who and how many will be attending. Go to the calendar and select the event (parade), click on "Members" under Online Registration. You will find information on the parade, if there is group transportation available and Hospitality Packet links for Northwest Festival Hosting (NWFH) Weekends.

Note:

1. It is not necessary to purchase a Hospitality Packet to attend a NWFH parade or weekend.

Formation: Follow the directions of the Royal Rosarian Drill Master(s). Note: In formation we use "guide right." The Drill Master(s) will be on the right and those marching on the right end of the line will set the spacing for that line.

Parade Behavior: Smile, wave and have fun while maintaining a dignified manner (see Royal Rosarian Roster — "What is expected of a Royal Rosarian" page 35).

Cell Phones: Carry a cell phone with access to Parade Chair's cell phone number. While marching, do not use your cell phone unless it is an emergency.

Photo ID & Royal Rosarian Emergency Information Card: Carry your Photo ID & Royal Rosarian Emergency Information Card. See the parade chair or drill master if you do not have an Emergency Information Card.

Sunglasses & Rain Gear: Sunglasses are permitted. Rain gear is the parade time decision of the Prime Minister.

Uniforms: Make sure your personal appearance meets the Rosarian Code of Conduct. Correct fit and cleanliness of the uniform are required. See Royal Rosarian Roster (pages 36-41).

Water: Stay hydrated

Emergencies: In case of an emergency or major concern, notify a Parade Marshal (Starlight Only), a Police Officer or an announcer in a PA Tower. If you find yourself in an emergency and/or have a major concern and, none of the preceding individuals are available, immediately call 911. Be sure to have an emergency contact information card with you.

When to Doff our Hat: at an Announcement Tower, for TV cameras, and a large group of spectators; As soon as the announcer recognizes the group, Doff. Once past the tower, camera or group, end Doff. If you have a large group, wait for the group to pass to end Doff.

Portland Rose Festival Foundation directives for marching in the Starlight and Grand Floral Parades: All parade participants (e.g. marchers, float riders, band members, dancers, marshals, etc.) are prohibited from making physical contact with parade spectators along the route or in the formation area. This rule is in place both for the safety of the participants and spectators, and for the liability of the event. Furthermore, nothing may be handed out, thrown, or otherwise distributed along the route to parade spectators by parade participants in the line of march. Prohibited items include, but are not limited to gifts, literature, candy, stickers, silly string, water, etc.

Think of parades as an accordion. The parade expands and contracts with MAX Train stoppages, performances, TV commercials, etc. When the parades slows or stops, keep in mind the 30 — 50 foot rule between units. Do not start again until the unit ahead is moving and the unit you are following is 30 — 50 feet ahead. Of course, if the spacing has become too great, attempt to close the gap accordingly.

Thank you for participating and being mindful of your responsibilities.

How to Marshal for the Starlight Parade:

Marching Bands: Arrive early and check in. At this time, you should receive a report card that has questions that characterize the activities of the band. Please complete the card at the end of the parade and hand it to an earlier designated Rosarian. This information is used by the Rose Festival, not only for possible awards, but to help determine if the band will be invited back. You will receive a number to attach to the right sleeve of your uniform. This is used to help identify the band. Introduce yourself to the Band Director and any other key advisors, e.g., the Drum Major. Let them know that you are there to assist them at the direction of the parade organizers and that you will be marching at the front right and abreast of their banner or leading element of the band.

You are responsible to keep the band spacing 30-50 feet from the unit that is directly ahead. If the lead elements of the band are their banner carriers, ensure they are keeping the same distance from the band as they tend to outpace the band. If you come to a stop, it is preferable to close-up to the unit ahead. However, once the parade restarts it is important to wait before moving forward so you can maintain the aforementioned spacing. If this spacing is not maintained, it makes it difficult for the announcers in the PA Towers to inform the crowd what they are viewing and for them to acknowledge the band.

You are also responsible to follow any directions given by the Portland Rose Festival Foundation Parade Marshals (wearing orange vests) along the parade route. These are typically directions to speed up or slow down.

Sometimes you will encounter a street vendor that has placed themselves in the direct path of the band, making it difficult for them to stay in formation. When this happens, if possible, move ahead of the band and ask the vendor to move over to the honor line. Then wait for the band to catch up with you.

Be another set of eyes for the Band Director. Be observant of your surroundings and where you are. Trust your instincts. In case of an emergency or major concern, notify a Parade Marshal, a Police Officer, or an announcer in a PA Tower.

How to Marshal for the Junior Parade:

Introduce yourself to the band director. March at the front and right side of the unit. Keep them in a reasonable distance behind the entry they follow. Make sure the participants stay in line and safe. Just enjoy watching the participating kids and the kids watching the parade.

How to Marshal for the Grand Floral Parade:

1. Floats:

Arrive early and check in. During the Grand Floral Parade, you will be an official marshal. Get to your assigned float early and introduce yourself to the float's coordinator, as well as any participants riding the float. On occasion, the float will have an additional group of participants marching in front of or around the float. There will be a float builder's float marshal with the float at all times. The builder's float marshal will be positioned at the front left of the float and assist the float driver with the float's speed and turns.

You will march at the rear right corner of the float. You will not be required to provide any instructions regarding speed and/or turning control. You are there to escort the float and not obstruct the view of the float when pictures are being taken.

2. Bands:

Introduce yourself to the Band Director and any other key advisors, e.g., the Drum Major. Let them know that you are there to assist them at the direction of the parade organizers and that you will be marching at the front right and abreast of their banner or leading element of the band. You are responsible to keep the band spacing 30-50 feet from the unit that is directly ahead. If the lead elements of the band are their banner carriers, ensure they are keeping the same distance from the band as they tend to outpace the band. If you come to a stop, it is preferable to close up to the unit ahead.

Sometimes you will encounter a street vendor that has placed themselves in the direct path of the band, making it difficult for them to stay in-formation. When this happens, if possible, move ahead of the band and ask the vendor to move over to the honor line. Then wait for the band to catch up with you.

Be another set of eyes for the Band Director. Be observant of your surroundings and where you are. Trust your instincts. In case of an emergency or major concern, notify a Police Officer or an announcer in a PA Tower.
